We cannot say exactly at this time that it is all quiet on the Potomac. The money question is being considerably agitated, and even the ignorant do not neglect to speak their piece. We hear of gold bugs and silver bugs and straddle bugs. The ignorance displayed in the discussion reminds us of that of an old man, who soon after coming to this country went out with Jamie to eat peaches, and Jamie was shaking off the peaches and eating looked up and said: "Jamie, aches got legs?" Jamie said: "No, Pat, aches has got no legs." Then Jamie said, "and I've swallowed a straddle bug."

The Silver Convention at Chicago will be a hummer. See J. N. Lynch and get The Cincinnati Post.

Every housekeeper should see the Standard Kitchen Cabinet, now on exhibition at No. 9 West Second street. It is one of the greatest economizers of space and time that inventive genius has yet devised. No kitchen is complete without it. Represented by N. A. Peters.

Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our Doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum, in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by J. James Wood, Druggist.

THE FIRST BATTLE.

Soldier Never Forgets His Introduction to Powder and Bullets.

Youth's Companion.

An old soldier who had seen service for many a year in the Crimea, India, China, Africa and Egypt was asked one day in a London club whether he remembered the first time he was under fire.

"Certainly," he replied. "No soldier ever forgets that experience."

"Did you feel like a hero at the time?"

"No, indeed. It was in one of the great battles of the Crimea. I was a young officer, who had been run out of the military school ahead of time to fill a vacancy. I had hardly been in camp a week before the regiment was ordered to charge a Russian battery which was posted in a commanding position. We went forward on a gallop through a dense cloud of smoke, swooped down upon the battery, sabred the artillerymen and captured the guns. We lost many of our men, but it was a very brilliant charge. Yet there was at least one Hussar who acknowledged himself to be a coward from beginning to end."

"Then you were terribly frightened by your first battle?"

"Yes, that is the truth. I went ahead with the others, but I was trembling with fear and excitement. I shut my eyes and made no attempt to guide my horse. I thought of my good mother at home and wondered how I had ever been so foolish as to think of the army when there were comfortable professions, like the ministry and the law, which I might have followed."

"The charge occupied only a few minutes, but it seemed an endless time before we were behind those murderous guns and had the cannons at our mercy. I was among the first to be with them, and I swagged with my sabre while the horse rode down and killed a gunner. But my heart was like a ball of ice. A greater coward never scrambled over an intrenchment. All the time I was repeating texts from the Bible and sentences from the Lord's Prayer and wishing myself thousands of miles away."

The veteran laughed heartily over his reminiscences of his first battle.

"The funniest part of it," he added, "was that they considered it a great exploit and insisted upon giving me a medal for my heroic and courageous conduct, when I was a white faced, mean-spirited coward from first to last and my horse did all the fighting for me, trampling the gunner under foot."

Probably the veteran exaggerated his boyish trepidation and panic. He could have afforded to do so, for he was a seasoned soldier whose courage and even recklessness were well known, but he was not far from the truth when he declared that no soldier ever felt like a hero when he was first under fire.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.
